

INCREASE YOUR DONATION TO EFGS WITH YOUR COMPANY SPONSORED MATCHING FUNDS PROGRAM

Many companies will match your donation to a non-profit organization. Even if it's just a percentage, it increases the impact of your donation. Below is a list of businesses with varying matching gift – this is not a complete list! Please contact your personnel department to find out if your company has a matching gift program and a matching gift form.

- 3M Foundation
- Abbott Laboratories
- Aetna
- Alaska Airlines
- Allstate Insurance Company
- American Express
- Applied Materials
- AT&T
- Autodesk, Inc.
- Bank of the West
- Bank of America
- Bank One
- Bi-Mart
- The Boeing Company*
- Cardinal Health
- Charles Schwab
- Chevron
- Costco
- Delta Airlines
- ebay
- Expedia
- First Independent
- Fedex
- Gap, Inc
- General Electric
- Google
- Hewlett-Packard
- HSBC
- Hunter-Davison, Inc.
- Intel
- Kaiser Permanente
- KPMG, LLP
- Liberty Mutual
- Linkedin
- Merck
- Microsoft Corporation*
- Morgan Stanley
- Nike
- The ODS Companies
- PGE
- QWest
- Regence Blue Cross Blue Shield
- REI
- Safeco Insurance
- Spring
- Starbucks*
- Umpqua Bank
- Verizon
- Washington Group
- Washington Mutual
- Wells Fargo*

BOEING: the company will match gifts between $25 and $6,000.

Boeing also provides grants to nonprofits where employees dedicate their time. For every 25 hours a Boeing employee volunteers he or she can request a $250 grant. Plus the company provides $100 grants as a way to recognize employees who participate in fundraising walks, bikes, and runs.

MICROSOFT: within the last two years, Microsoft has increased its matching gift maximum from an already impressive $12,000 to a tremendous $15,000.

To make things even better, Microsoft also has a volunteer grant program where the company donates $25 to organizations for every hour its employees volunteer and provides each new employee with a small grant to allocate to a nonprofit of his or her choosing.

STARBUCKS: offers a matching gift program where the company matches up to $1,500 in donations per employee each year. Full-time, part-time, and retired employees are eligible for the program.